"The Land of a Fair Deal"

Those who took the opportunity of hearing Mrs. Nellie McClung on her second appearance in this city were in no way disappointed. Her charm and real gift as a public speaker were felt by all and the applause which followed her address was very hearty and prolonged.

Her subject, "The Land of a Fair Deal," was only dealt with and was one of the strongest arguments in favor of temperance heard here. Indeed the secret of the deep interest she commands seems to be in the reasonableness of her statements and the aptness of her illustrations. In her introduction, Mrs. McClung spoke of the characteristics of different nations, showing how each came to be known by some distinctive trait, as for instance, Germany being known for her military spirit, Canada is but in its formative period as a nation. It is a land of great extent and resources. "If there is one thing," said the speaker, "that we as Canadians wish to be known for the world over, it is that we stand for a fair deal for everyone, small or great, to have justice and a chance to make the best of themselves."

"Is it then a fair deal when we license that which is corrupting and enslaving our youth?" The speaker contended that this was not, that the licensed bar was one of the greatest evils to this country. References were here made to the arguments advanced by the opponents of the Liquor Act, one being that it does not secure total prohibition.

Mrs. McClung said that since it would abolish the bar-room it would be a considerable step in the right direction, that the real reason just forth by the opponents were, selfish ones. She told of a worthy Archbishop who said he did not believe in prohibition because he had tried it and it was not good for his own health. "Our soldiers write home from the trenches" continued the lecturer, "and tell us they are not able to get a change of stockings at times, and that sometimes when they take them off the skin comes too."

"That isn't very good for their health," quoth she, "but they are willing, nevertheless, to go on with such conditions in order that their heads may be very dubiously 'Jana' there might be secure, and ideals upheld."

"Oh, such reason as personal liberty or personal interest might have passed a year ago, but that argument is too mean and small to advance in this day. Personal liberty. Why, that reminds me of the story of the couple who came from the country to see the circus. They were standing before the cage of a Hippopotamus. John after looking at this curious animal for some minutes, turned and said, shaking his head, very dubiously 'Jana, there ain't no such animal!' Other illustrations made this argument seem most unworthy."

As for its being untrue to abolish the bar because it meant the breaking down of a social custom, this too, was no argument. Social customs are not sacred, said the speaker and in this instance quoted a very amusing and apt reference to the social customs of Lizards as shown in a Summer Camp. Lizards will follow each other into the fire. Mole, who is a creature of the soil, social custom, tamper with that which works their ruin. It is our own duty to break down social customs which result in evil.

In her closing arguments she presented the case from a woman's viewpoint very vividly. "Women," she said, had no apology to offer for being arrayed against the drink traffic. "None at all," she said, "but these homes against their wills and destroys and robs those homes. Very touchingly, Mrs. McClung gave incidents, which proved how cruel is the attack of the evil upon the home. She solemnly called upon the men present to discharge their duty on July 21. "We women give you our prayer. Do you cast it for us on election day?"

Other numbers on the program included a trio by Misses Ramsey Wilkins and Wythe, and a duet by Mrs. Montgomery and Mrs. Aldrich. The singing of the National Anthem closed the entertainment.

Bussard-Greiner Nuptial

A very pretty wedding took place at the Roman Catholic church, Wetaskiwin, on Tuesday morning, June 29th, when two popular young people of the Lewisville district were united in holy matrimony. We refer to Mr. Leander Bussard and Miss Mary Greiner. The officiating clergyman was Rev. L. C. Walraves and the witnesses were Mr. Tony Greiner and Miss Gertrude Buckley. The reception was under the direction of the Alberta Medical Association and a hearty welcome was given to a Sedgewick justice. The case was dismissed.

Chas. McFadden, who has been practicing osteopathy at Killam for some time, has been charged with a violation of the Alberta statutes. The prosecution was under the direction of the Alberta Medical Association and a hearty welcome was given to a Sedgewick justice. The case was dismissed.

Council Proceedings

A special meeting of the city council was held on Saturday evening with all the members present except Ald. Johnston.

After waiving legal notice, a communication was read from the Salvation Army, protesting against the Wetaskiwin Band playing opposite the Salvation Army band Sunday evenings, as it would interrupt their meetings. After the question was fully discussed, it was moved by Gordon MacEachern that the Mayor and Ald. Boyer interview the officers of the Wetaskiwin Band re the complaint of the Army. The motion carried, Ald. Compton dissenting.

The light and power committee brought in a report re the old delinquent light accounts which have been outstanding for considerable time on the books of the department. MacEachern-Cutler that the report of the light and power committee re old accounts be adopted.

Mr. Crane reported that the International Supply Co. were now to a depth of 2500 feet in gas well No. 3. G. Outhard-Cutler that the engineer be instructed to continue drilling in No. 3 well at the pleasure of the council. Carried.

Meeting adjourned.

A special meeting of the council was held on Tuesday afternoon with all present except Ald. Cutler and MacEachern.

The first business considered was the gas well; an interview being held with the representatives of the International Supply Co. The appearance of differences between the Company and the city were quickly adjusted.

A communication was read from E. E. Chandler, secretary of the public school board, informing the council that there was a vacancy on the board caused by the resignation of J. P. Fowler, and requesting that the necessary steps be taken to fill the vacancy.

Bylaw No. 230 was then read three times and finally passed appointing E. Roberts returning officer for the election to elect a successor to Mr. Fowler.

Meeting adjourned.

Present High School Staff Retained

It is with a great deal of pleasure that we are able to state that the present staff of the High School will not be re-opened this fall have no foundation, that the matter of closing this most important branch of the work has never contemplated, and for we are pleased to say that the same staff will continue the work in the same capacity that they have held in the past. Shortly after the opening of the school, the present staff of our pupils and those coming in from a distance that the High School will endeavor to maintain the reputation it has gained of being second to none in the province.

The differences that arose a week ago between the staff and the board have been satisfactorily adjusted and we are gratified to know that there will be no change in the advanced classes. Two vacancies occur in the Public School staff, Miss Pratt and Miss Matthews to New Brunswick positions will be filled from the applications now in the secretary's hands.

A Letter From The Front

A few days ago a letter was received in the city from George Weisford, who, shortly after the outbreak of the war, went home to join his regiment. He says in part: You will be surprised when I tell you I am writing this letter under fire as the German shells are whizzing and bursting all around. Thank the Lord I have been lucky up to now. I've had some very narrow escapes, but will not relate them now. Now, I cannot tell you where I am; only, if you remember where the six thousand were killed, that's where we are and I guess it is the hottest place on earth. I don't know how it is I have pulled through such heavy fighting right from the start without being hit. . . . Here I had to quit owing to the heavy shell fire of the enemy's artillery, and I am now in this afternoon. I cannot tell you much more, but if it were on the war I could write a book on it, only I pray Canada will not see what poor little Belgium has seen and suffered. Not far from here is the battlefield where so many lives were lost and the town I can see when I am out of the trenches. This town is rated to the ground—not a living soul there. Poor dear little babies, women and children killed, shot and bayoneted, and buried alive under the ruins of the houses. My heart is broke. I could not realize this until I came out and saw it with my own eyes, and some of the people around here want leave their houses, though part of the house is back of it piece now. I could keep on writing, but I must close as the "devils" are starting again.

The pulpit of the Methodist church will be occupied both morning and evening, on Sunday, July 11, by Rev. A. T. Aldridge, a former pastor.

Demise of Mrs. Mann

The many old-time friends of Mrs. G. Mann, were surprised to learn that she passed away at her home at Hobbema, early on Monday morning at the age of 81 years.

The funeral will take place on Thursday, July 1, upon the arrival of the afternoon train from the south, the remains being conveyed to Immanuel church, where service will be held. The interment takes place in the Wetaskiwin cemetery.

Girls Play Baseball Here

The All American Girls Baseball Club who played here last season are coming for a return engagement. Their classy bunch of girls are even stronger than they were last season. Carrie Nelson on 1st, Harriet Murphy, who played last season is now on 2nd and Maud Nelson short and Mabel Martin on 3rd makes some infield. We all know Gert, Harriet and Maud well, and remember that they played a fine game and could ball, throw and field like professionals. Manager Richards informs us that he is going to keep the boys out for practice and surprise the girls. We shall see. Anyway it will be a good game. Don't forget the date, Tuesday, July 13. Admission 50c.

Eight Hundred Edmonton Families Are Homeless

Edmonton, June 28.—Flood conditions on the Saskatchewan river here tonight at midnight were practically unchanged from earlier reports today. The river has been gradually rising all day, and at eleven o'clock tonight was 28 feet above the low level mark. All the lowlands on the flats surrounding the city are covered with water, and 400 families, mostly of the poorer classes, who live in shacks along the river banks are temporarily homeless. The police and fire departments have worked heroically all day, and they have been aided by hundreds of citizens in conveying household goods and children to the high ground throughout the town. The water level with the top of the low level bridge used as a street railway and passenger bridge and also by the Canadian Northern Railway for the purpose of forming a Home Guard at Lacombe. The object of the meeting was outlined by Mayor Leacock, which several gentlemen expressed their opinions on the subject. All were unanimous in their decision to form a Guard, and before the meeting had dispersed some twenty signed the roll. Home Guards have been formed in many of the Alberta cities and towns and from the present outlook the same will soon have a large enrolment. Lacombe Globe.

But at present the saloon openly solicits and tempts your boy to partake of what every intelligent boy knows are forbidden things for his intelligent parents, by employers, by educators, by moralists and by nature. Under the license system, there are some boys who will resist temptation, but under the Liquor Act he will know it is a criminal act, and if there is any manhood about him he will avoid it.

In a Liquor ad. in the Consort Enterprise of May 13, they told the people they would be prevented from buying liquor in the province from a registered druggist and upon a prescription for medicinal purposes only. They know the Liquor Act will abolish the druggist and the wholesale liquor store, the club, and every place where whisky may be sold and drank as a beverage.

To The Editor of The Times

Let me thank you for printing my letter last week and if it is not presumptuous on my part you grant me space for a few more remarks on the defence of the Liquor Dealers.

In an advertisement headed "The Liquor Act is Dangerous" they say:

1. "It threatens your boy with a temptation of forbidden things." Then according to liquor logic no boy should be forbidden anything and he be tempted. But at present the saloon openly solicits and tempts your boy to partake of what every intelligent boy knows are forbidden things for his intelligent parents, by employers, by educators, by moralists and by nature. Under the license system, there are some boys who will resist temptation, but under the Liquor Act he will know it is a criminal act, and if there is any manhood about him he will avoid it.

2. They say "The Liquor Act keeps the liquor channels open." Then what are they kicking about? Isn't this the very thing the whisky vendors wish to do? But they know differently. In a Liquor ad. in the Consort Enterprise of May 13, they told the people they would be prevented from buying liquor in the province from a registered druggist and upon a prescription for medicinal purposes only. They know the Liquor Act will abolish the druggist and the wholesale liquor store, the club, and every place where whisky may be sold and drank as a beverage.

3. "It institutes the system recently rejected by Russia." This is only another attempt to make people believe a falsehood as there is no similarity between them. Russia had a monopoly of the liquor business and sold vodka for profit and promoted its sale as a beverage. Alberta assumed control of liquor to prohibit its sale as a beverage and only to provide a sufficient quantity for medicinal, scientific and sacramental purposes.

3. "Government vendors will be potential sources of political corruption." The worse they can say is that they will be potential sources of political corruption. But under our present system the liquor traffic is not only a potential but an actual source of political corruption. Both political parties in Manitoba now admit the corruption of politics by "the class of that scrib"—whisky of course. A candidate for the Federal house told me that under present conditions it is almost impossible to run an election without booze. He said "I promised my agents and supporters that I would pay all legitimate expenses but that I would pay nothing for booze. But when the election expenses came in there was a bill for booze and when I objected the agents replied 'The other side used it and we had to.'"

5. "A drug store will be a grog shop." This statement is inconsistent and insincere, for in another pamphlet they complain that even a sick person without a prescription can be given liquor by a druggist as he can buy only from a vendor and sell only on a Dr's prescription.

6. "A dentist will prescribe liquor and it will mean an additional fee." A dentist may have but one point at a time and must make affidavit that it will be used only for dental treatment when the character of the treatment requires it. He will be a poor dentist who could not make more at his chair than he could by running to the vendors for a pint of whisky and selling it to a patient who would pay for it.

7. "A veterinary surgeon can sell liquor in quantities." The truth is he can neither sell or buy it in quantities. He can buy one gallon at a time and sell none of it. He can use it in the treatment of an animal but must make affidavit as to how, when and where he used it.

Thus every man, vendor, doctor, dentist, and veterinary can be checked up. Especially the liquor men place low moral values on these professions and judge them by their own standard of morality. They represent the worst class of the community as law-breaking as the worst class of men.

In another pamphlet called Labor and the Liquor Act they say:

1. "The Liquor Act would seem largely framed up for the working man." Yes it is framed up for him not against him as the pamphlet wishes to imply. And it is framed up for the millionaire also.

2. "He would no longer be able to buy a glass of liquor in a licensed hotel." No and neither can the millionaire.

3. They also complain that the reformers are "penalizing the whole community" in the regeneration of the "moderate drinker." But we ask who created the moderate drinker? Certainly not the temperance people. Who penalizes the community today? The liquor traffic both through the moderate and the immoderate drinker.

Right here in Wetaskiwin we can find firms with from five to ten thousand dollars on their books and 75 per cent of the accounts of some of these are men who drink. Now does not the liquor trade penalize not only these firms but their abstinence and other customers, who are not abstainers, but who pay since these firms must have a large profit to carry the dead-weights and the loss-payers.

4. Why, they ask, do the temperance people cry out about the economic waste of the liquor traffic? And do the temperance people buy luxuries? But whisky taken as a beverage is neither a necessity nor a luxury. That which robs men of their vitality and debilitates their intellect and moral sense, is not a luxury but a poison and a public nuisance, and should be made a criminal offence, as it is contrary to the national and individual welfare.

5. They complain that the Liquor Act transforms offenders who would otherwise be respectable men into criminals. So does the law against murder duelling and stealing make those do these things criminals, who would not be criminals legally, were there no such law. In fact they would be considered gentlemen of a high degree among a race without law and with low morals.

6. They declare that men receive lower wages under no-license. This is false, and may be proved by taking the state of Mass. The U.S. Census Bureau gives the average earnings in the manufacturing cities of Mass. and shows that in unlicensed cities the average wage is $75.09 higher than in licensed cities.

In another pamphlet called "Prohibition and Economy" they ask you to consider the average earnings in the manufacturing cities of Canada the percentage of intemperate courts for the year 1913 was 577. We answer because Dorchester penalizes represents three provinces, all of which are maritime, and in which there is one city, Halifax, and five counties west. These alone are

THURSDAY JULY 1, 1915

THE WAR

Six weeks more and we shall have seen a year at war, and the sword seems no nearer than it did at the beginning, or at any time since, although of course it is by over ten months nearer. It is almost a year since any marked change has been made in the position of the opposing forces in France and Flanders, though men have fallen there by the thousands every week, nay every day. On the Russian front, the line has stayed backward and forward over a range of two hundred miles. For a month now the Russians have been receding in Galicia 150 to 200 miles of an Austro-German army of something like three million men. They have swung back more than once before, and have recovered themselves. But never before had they such an infinite force opposed to them. Or, so determined, for everything seems to depend on the success of this assault. Should the Germans-for it is the Germans who command, and largely Germans who are fighting-break the Russian line, and destroy the Russian army, they would have three million men free to attack the western allies in similar fashion; and that's what they are counting on doing. Should they fail to break the Russian line, as they have so far failed, every mile of advance means increased embarrassment for the transportation of supplies, munitions and reinforcements for so enormous an army, and for the removal and care of wounded, and increased peril in retreat. The latest story is that the German Emperor has again gone to the front to take command. That would dismay the commanders supplanted at crisis of the plans and the dishearten the soldiers, who would expect to be ruthlessly sacrificed. Should this drive fail, on which so much has been staked, it would break the heart of Germany. Hitherto we have heard of new forces being taken to the front; now there come accounts of Austrian veterans being withdrawn from Galicia to face the Italians in the Alps, and even though unlikely, of the transportation of German troops from east to west to meet the increased pressure there. The direct poverty in ammunition is the cause of the German need. She has men enough, but she cannot arm them. Britain and her ally, France, are short and cannot help. -Weekly Witness.

CANADIAN FRUIT TRADE

As showing to some extent how much a good fruit-growing means to Canada it is worth while noting the amount of trade formerly done by the countries at war that lies open for cultivation by this country. At the Canadian Fruit Growers' Conference held at Grimsby last September, Mr. J. A. Rudick, dairy and cold storage commissioner, stated that he had taken a period of five years and that he had found the importations of apples from Germany to Britain varied each year from 5,000 to 14,000 bushel boxes, from Belgium from 100,000 to 200,000 boxes, from France from 50,000 to 575,000 boxes and from Portugal from 175,000 to 350,000 boxes. Of these the importations varied from 4,500 to 35,000 bushel boxes from Germany, from 252,800 to 508,480 boxes from Belgium and from 422,400 to 582,160 boxes from Portugal. Large quantities here also imported from the Netherlands which may not be available. Mr. Rudick prognosticated an increased demand for dried and evaporated fruit from Great Britain for use in the army. In 1913 Canada exported of this line to the United Kingdom 121,183 pounds, to Newfoundland 217,839 pounds and to Germany 217,802 pounds. Of course the trade with Germany would be cut off but the other directions should expand in other directions.

SEEKS NEWS OF HER SON

Arthur Ashton, of 322 Goldhawk Road, Richmond, Park, Edmonton, Eng., has written to the provincial detective service on behalf of his mother, seeking information regarding her son, Bert Ashton, of whom they have not heard for fourteen months. At different times he was at Springfield P.O., Wetaskiwin, Port Arthur, Port Huron, and at a brick laid, Altin, and Bradwell, Sask. Mr. Ashton says in part in his letter:

"He thought he might have been killed in the army. He is 22 years of age, fair hair, tall, five feet eleven, and thin build. I know it is very vague, and these addresses may be hundreds of miles from each other in your big country. And what with these terrible lines here it has aged mother a lot. She is 60 years old and her only wish is to hear her boy. I wonder if you could put me on the track. I am sure, sir, you have done an old lady a great service. Hoping to hear something from you in the near future."

Any information can be sent to The Wetaskiwin Times or to the Provincial Detective Department.

MAY NEED ALL MEN IN SIGHT FOR FIGHTING

London, June 25.-The Times' military correspondent, in welcoming the government's decision to seek the power to make a national registration points out that Great Britain's military establishment is now in the neighborhood of three millions and as the total male population in the United Kingdom between the ages of 15 and 40 is about 8,000,000, there are still some five millions unaccounted for, of whom there are certainly between two and three million available for active service.

"It is possible," the writer continues, "that we shall need every man that can be recruited. We have been unable to break the ground defensive in the west or the Turkish defenses in the Dardanelles, while Russian campaign is not going well. Therefore such a measure as a national registration is merely an act of common prudence called for by the extreme necessity of concerted action."

The article dwells particularly on the enormous numbers of married men who have been recruited, compared with the single men, and it draws the future pension list will be a constant reminder of the mistake which has been made in this connection.

WHAT BEER COSTS

A gallon of beer costs the hotel keeper 37 1/2 cents. He sells the same at two drinks for two bits-which is $2.00 per gallon-net profit 1.52. If a man drinks a gallon a week, he pays $1.62 for the privilege of "standing up to the bar." Under the Liquor Act which will come into force on July 1, 1916, a man can buy his own beer at 37 1/2 cents per gallon. Add 12 1/2 for transportation charges. The cost of two gallons under the Act will be 1.00. If he drinks two glasses per day and four on Sunday, the two gallons will be worth $78 per year, enough to buy many luxuries or pay for a life insurance of at least $5,000, so that when he dies his estate will be worth $5,000. And the man has his beer all these years. Or better still if he has a wife, he can elect her bartender. Let her buy the beer and collect twelve and a half cents for every drink. She will save the $78 per year, a nice little sum for her and the children, or she can invest it each week at four per cent and when the husband dies 34 years later, she will have $25,355, a nice little sum for a widow.

Vote for the Liquor Act on July 21st.

ACTION OF SINGLE SPOONFUL SURPRISES MANY.

Wetaskiwin people who bought the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adlerika, are surprised at the INSTANT effect of a SINGLE SPOONFUL. This remedy is no complete a bowel cleanser that it is used successfully in appendicitis. Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels and ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost any case of constipation, sour or gassy stomach. ONE MINUTE after you take it the gas passes rumble and pass out. T. F. Ball, druggist.

HAD CHOLERA INFANTUM.

Doctor Said He Was In A Very Dangerous Condition.

Mothers cannot watch their children too closely for signs of cholera infantum, as this disease carries off thousands of infants during the hot summer months.

Mrs. Geo. W. Gerdner, Prosser Brook, Sask., writes: "Last summer my boy [now three years old, was taken sick with cholera infantum. He was so hot the next morning that the doctors looked at him and said he was in a very dangerous condition. They sent me some tablets which cured the child, and when he was better they were sent to me to give to other children. I have since used them on several other children and they have always cured them. I am sure they are a positive cure for cholera infantum."

The doctor's friend of Wm. Strang, of Regina, writes: "I have used the tablets, and I have seen one of the children who was in a very dangerous condition, and he was cured by the tablets. I am sure they are a positive cure for cholera infantum."

ALBERTA HAS A

FLOWING OIL WELL

The Southern Alberta Oil Company has a flowing well. This announcement was made to The Herald by President William Livingstone of the company at 11:15 this morning. The rising oil has burst the safety valve which is attached to the top of the well and is flowing all over the surrounding country.

Attempts will be made at once to control the flow.

The depth of the well is 3,27 feet and the pressure when the valve was blown off was 350 pounds to the square inch.

TO THE VOTERS IN DOUBT

Here is a word to the man who is honestly in doubt about voting on the Prohibition Bill on July 21.

These are abnormal times and the nation throughout the world have recently taken action in curtailing the sale of liquor. Britain has imposed certain limitations upon the sale of strong drink. Russia has abolished the trade of vodka, and France has abolished trade in alcohol and generally limited the traffic in liquor.

In Canada Manitoba has greatly restricted the hours of sale, and Saskatchewan will abolish the bar on June 20. In the United States the movement towards prohibition has been very marked during the last few years, and many states have abolished the trade, and in others large areas have become "dry."

Alberta has made no move yet. The Trade in strong drink is a serious menace to the nation passing through the present strain.

The restrictions adopted in the other nations have accomplished very much and have more than met the expectation of the legislators.

Let us take similar action in Alberta. This province is passing through a period of stress and serious trial. Like the nations of Europe and the states across the line we are weathering the storm with greater certainty without the burden of the liquor business. Let us pass this prohibition and let it be a good thorough complete rest. If it is not satisfactory we can amend it at any time or repeal it completely at any time. The Times is quite convinced that the people of Alberta will never abandon prohibition once they have tried it. But in three years of test we shall have an opportunity. If we desire, of abandoning it and substituting the present system.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND PROHIBITION UNDER PROHIBITION

Replying to a statement which was published a few weeks ago which said that no progressive Albertan would suggest Prince Edward Island as an example of successful working of prohibition, Mr. L. P. Tancin, Grand Secretary of the League of Temperance, writing from Charlottetown, says:

"What does the writer know of this province, except that it is sufficiently distant to minimize its chances of meeting prohibition? In this regard, as in all law enforcement, there will be lapses of official laxity or neglect. But the prohibition act of Prince Edward Island has so solidified its influence and virtues into the hearts and souls of our people that sure defeat would await the politician or government that would dare advocate its repeal. A few years ago, when liquor ran rampant in our land there was stagnated trade, commercial depression, business and bank failures and an exodus of the best young men of this country to the great northwest. Today, under prohibition, all our articles are crowded with work, the laborer is amply employed at his wages, poverty almost a stranger, and a prosperous and successful people's life, while the exodus has ceased and many of our sons are returning home again. The Dominion government statistics will show in this respect, the smallest per capita criminal record in Canada. Is this success, or is it 'chance'? Just tell your friends that there is an incentive to education in prohibition and sobriety, and that there is no place on the American continent, where the people are better, where 'prosperity' is national and where there is more contentment, than on our beautiful 'sea-green' prohibition Isle.

DO IT NOW!

The Department of Agriculture beg to advise farmers of the province that in view of the large increase in the acreage needed to grain and the promising crop conditions, there is likely to be a very great demand for harvest help this season and as there are a large number of unemployed workmen in our cities at the present time it would be well to engage such help as may be needed at the earliest possible moment.

Hitherto it has been the policy of the railway companies to induce western immigration for harvest help, but this year it may be assumed that such movement will be considerable, as conditions in the western provinces are very similar to those in the West with very little or no immigration from Europe.

At the present time there are certain numbers of unemployed in Alberta. There are not, however, over 100,000 men under arms, and recruiting is progressing steadily. Before harvest therefore, it is safe to conclude that upward of 50,000 more men will have been withdrawn. It is also expected that railway and municipal work will rapidly employ many of the present unemployed, so there is likely to be a scarcity of help for harvest work if arrangements are not made at once to secure the necessary assistance.

Calgary, June 23.—A big conference to grapple with the problem of the proper marketing of British Columbia fruit on the prairies will be held at Calgary July 7, 8 and 9. British Columbia fruit growers and shippers, the British Columbia government and it is hoped representatives of jobbers and retailers from all points on the prairies will be present. Invitations are being extended by the Board of Trade.

ANGUS RIDGE

Angus Ridge, June 23.—Miss Bertha Peterson returned to Edmonton on Sunday after spending two weeks at her home here. Several from here attended the picnic at Perintosh last Thursday and Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Shantz of Wetaskiwin are visiting friends and relatives in the neighborhood this week.

A number from this district attended the lecture in Angus Theatre on Friday evening.

Mr. B. E. Langford is around again after his recent illness.

Miss Delma and Myrtle, and Masters Fredrick and Faye Unsworth, and Mrs. Harris left on Monday last for Detroit.

The British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association have just issued a 78 page illustrated booklet containing over two hundred tried and tested recipes for preparing apples, peaches, plums, strawberries, raspberries and other fruits, information as to varieties of apples and when to use them, how to store apples, how to preserve fruits without sugar, etc. and much other data of special interest to the housewife.

I should like to call your attention especially to the article "Preserve your Fruits without Sugar" on page seven, as possesses special interest for the housewife, at the present period of hard times and high cost of sugar. This article was prepared by consultation with domestic science experts and is absolutely reliable. Copies of the booklet will be free on request.—J. Forsyth Smith, B. C. Market Committee, Calgary.

with their own intemperate thoughts, ask you to join them.

When you vote "NO" on July 21 you administer a well-merited rebuke to intolerance, selfishness, and self-seeking; to bitter, intemperate destructionists. They would saddle you with an impractical legislation because it means a meagre, empty and brief success for them. They would deceive you with endless abuse on a subject which is too broad for their rutted mentalities to grasp. They refuse to see the financial burdens which their actions will bring on the tax-payers of Alberta if the Liquor Act carries.

They are not capable of creating sane legislation.

sufficient to cause thirty-seven per cent of the number of criminals to be sentenced without taking into consideration the character of the crime.

Again they ask "If prohibition prevents crime, how did it come to pass that the twenty per cent of the abstemious existers in the same 7,000 were perpetrators of crimes serious enough to land them in the penitentiary?" No one has ever claimed that prohibition would remove a 11 crime. But we will answer this question by saying that early drinking habits which they had given up, poor home conditions caused by drunken parents, or inherited criminal tendencies caused by drinking ancestors, would probably account for a good many of the 19,000 first offenders.

The man who sent forth this statement in the interest of the liquor trade must have been drunk when he wrote it, or else their brains were so much affected by liquor that they have lost all power of reasoning. For this statement alone, and especially when taken in connection with other statements, is a strong argument for prohibition. Let us look at it. Only twenty per cent of the criminals in the Dominion penitentiary are drinkers, while 80 per cent are moderate drinkers. Accordingly we see that drink produces a large percentage of the criminals. But let us take it in connection with another statement. They said only 18 out of every 1000 are moderate drinkers and we remember the 1000 for the 18. Now, according to their statement 37 per cent of the criminals were moderate drinkers in 1900, but they have only 18 in every 1000 criminals, that is, there are over twenty times the moderate drinkers that are criminals than there should be. What other proof do we need that whiskey produces criminals? We have this: "Whiskey men's word for it. Surely if they have any brains, they are sorry that they spoke, but their statement that 30 per cent of the criminals are drinkers is based upon, by other statistics, in Kingston penitentiary in 1888-89 there were 181 convicts of whom only 9 were abstemious, i.e., less than 5 per cent of the criminals were abstemious, while 15 per cent were drinkers. Say nothing about the number of this five per cent who were criminals through drinking parents, etc. and give the 55 per cent of drinking criminals the same percentage, who were criminals because of criminal tendencies, not caused by drink, and what is the result. Why that 95 per cent of the criminals were drinkers and 5 per cent of them were abstemious, were drinkers. Well may the liquor men couple together prohibition and economy—economy in lives and labor in the upkeep of jails, penitentiaries, hospitals, and workhouses; in police salaries and wardens.

In another pamphlet entitled "The Business Aspect of the Liquor Act," they say "Occasional buyers of liquor are being formed for the purpose of opposing the Liquor Act." I would like them to name one genuine organization of business men opposing it, except of those who are the financial interests in the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors. Eighty per cent of the commercial travellers are for prohibition. The Farmers' Union has declared itself in favor of the Act, the Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist provincial assemblies have unanimously declared themselves in favor of the Act. Other churches have done so also, but I mention these three because they are democratic and one half of their members are laymen who are largely composed of the leading business and professional men.

The provincial grand lodge of the Orange Association without a dissenting vote pronounced itself in favor of the act, and it is almost wholly composed of business men. Vicar General Cassidy, Roman Catholic prelate, speaking for the labor union said "The action is contrary to all the union stands for; it is the union's worst enemy." Surely the men who produce capital ought to be called business men. Of course the liquor traffic looks upon the working man not as a business man but as its legitimate prey.

They ask "Are the dry belts of Quebec and Ontario representative of the wealth and intelligence of these provinces?" Before answering this I would like to ask them, why they didn't ask the three maritime provinces which they think are the dry end of Canada, representative of the intelligence of Canada? It is generally conceded by college men that these provinces produce the best scholars and according to their population they have produced the greatest number of the leading Canadian statesmen.

But now for the quasi-assertion that the dry belt of Ontario and Quebec do not represent the wealth and intelligence of these provinces. In Quebec, the eastern townships are known as the garden of the province, and in these are found one of the largest dry belts of the province. These are the freest from illiteracy and contain the parishes in which the largest salaries are paid to the teachers. In the cities that are not dry the leading men like Sir Lomer Gouin, Archbishop Bruch, Judge Leet and Alderman Carter working for the removal of the license system and in the interest of temperance.

In Ontario, old Dundas is a fine example of the local option territory as it is almost wholly dry, but Dundas is one of the wealthiest farming and dairying centres in the Dominion. Nearly every farmer has pure bred stock of some kind and takes together with the eastern townships the farms and houses are among the best in the province. This old Dundas and district surrounding it, has furnished Alberta with one of its leading legislators, its provincial secretary, some of its best known medical and dental specialists, Calgary with some of its leading business men, liquor dealers and a father of the world renowned vicar. From it came the most widely known among the Canadian heroes of the South African war, and it has produced one of the most prolific writers and composers of patriotic songs during the past war. That is not by chance, and the liquor trade produced three out of the five legislators in the Western Union school of agriculture last winter, while the only country that I know of which has given its name to a distinct brand of whiskey produced the stable hero. It has given to the Federal parliament the Hon. Lincoln of Canada, and the first lieutenant of the leader of the opposition. It gave to Ontario one of its present cabinet ministers and the greatest statesman since the days of Sir Oliver Mowat, and the only political figure he suffered was at the hands of the liquor party, these angles of heaven who are afraid that the Liquor Act will corrupt politics.

And lastly they are circulating the statement that the Hudson's Bay cannot be reformed, but liquor is in the province. But the truth is the Hudson's Bay has no charter rights or any other right to sell liquor but what any other liquor store has, which receives its license from the 20,000 commissioners of the provincial government.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I remain, Yours Sincerely,

M. L. Wright.

Moers, H. J. Montgomery, M.P. and H. L. Higgs motored from town and the number gave the assembly a speech in which he complimented the Bigstone district on the large number of children attending and their interest in the school. He spoke on the great advantages of education and how all should profit by it.

A song was rendered by the pupils in the school room under the direction of the teacher, Mr. Connelly.

The Union Jack was hoisted on the flag pole for the day and the weather was all that could be desired.

WAS SO WEAK

WOULD HAVE TO STAY IN BED.

Millburn's Heart and Nerve Pills

Cured Her.

Mrs. J. Day, 224 John St. South, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I was so run down with a weak heart that I could not even sweep the floor, nor could I sleep at night. I was so awfully sick sometimes I had to stay in bed all day as I was so weak. I used three and a half boxes of Millburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and I am a cured woman today, and as strong as any one could be, and am doing my own housework, even my own washing."

"I doctored for over two years, but got no help until I used your pills."

Millburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Was Constantly Troubled With Boils.

HAD NINE ON HIS ARMS AT ONCE.

Boils are caused by bad blood, and unless the blood is made pure cannot expect to get rid of them.

Ointments and salves will do you no good. You must get at the seat of the trouble by using a good internal blood purifying medicine such as that grand old remedy Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mr. Samuel Buckler, Tatamagouche, N.S., writes: "Last summer I was constantly troubled with boils. I had nine on my arms at once. I thought it was caused from bad blood so I got two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters, and before the first bottle was done I began to feel a great deal better, and before the second one was finished I did not have a boil, nor have I had one since. I cannot recommend B.B.B. too highly."

CONSTIPATION. CAN BE CURED.

There is Nothing To Equal
Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills
For This Purpose.

Mrs. A. Cumming, Manchester, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled with constipation for over five years, and feel it my duty to let you know that your Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have cured me. I only used three vials, and I can faithfully say that they have saved me from a large doctor bill."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, and thus keep them regular. Irregular bowels are the main cause of constipation.

The price of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills is 25c. per vial or 5 vials for $1.00, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

RETURNING OFFICERS ARE APPOINTED

The returning officers for the provincial election which is to be held on July 21, were appointed at an executive council meeting on Saturday and all the machinery is now in official motion for the taking of the vote.

The location of the polls will be largely the same as at the last provincial election. Over two thousand ballot boxes are now being sent to various parts of the province.

The returning officers for the province are as follows:

Wetaskiwin—Chas. D. Euman, Wetaskiwin.

Leduc—John Cronch, Leduc.

Ponoka—W. Evans Turner, Ponoka.

Camrose—Jas. S. Orr, Dayland.

Miss Lizzie Vian, who has been a rest of Miss Pearl Dumont for a week returned on Tuesday to her home in Wetaskiwin—Dayland Press.

Qualified veterinary surgeons are required for overseas service in the Imperial Army. Any surgeons desiring to volunteer should send their names to the Camp Commandant, Mobilization Camp, Calgary.

Three and four thousand dollar barns are going up in large numbers on many farms in the Wetaskiwin district, according to W. C. McLean, of the Central Grain & Produce Co., of that city, who is spending a few days in Calgary.

Mr. McLean says that farmers in the Wetaskiwin territory benefited greatly during the winter from the high prices of grain as well as the security of hay in other parts of the province, and the new barns are the result of this. Wetaskiwin is a mixed farming district, but despite this, Mr. McLean estimates that the increase in grain acreage is fully 20 per cent. This does not mean, however, he says that the mixed farming is being abandoned at all.

Crops at present look fine, and there is a unanimous conviction that the crops will be the heaviest ever handled. Ample rain has fallen and there will not be any need for more for some time.—News Telegram.

NEW LUMBER INDUSTRY PROGRESS

It may be within the recollection of our readers that in November last Mr. W. J. Dent, manager of the firm of Watt & Co., of Wetaskiwin, arrived at the landing and proceeded with a gang of men by way of the overland trail to Tomato Creek in order to start logging on the area of 23 and a half miles of timber limits granted to Messrs. Watt & Co. by the Dominion Government.

The trail was had and the initial difficulties were great. Mr. Dent and his men for some time stayed at the stopping place on Tomato Creek and tramped every morning five miles to the site of their new camp, returning to Tomato Creek every night.

In course of time substantial shacks were erected. Logging proceeded during the winter and at the end of February logs of excellent quality calling about one million feet board measure were on the dump.

Since the close of the logging season the new firm has not been idle. A boiler and engine, sawmill outfit, edger, cut-off saw and planer, were transported up the river just before the ice broke up. These have been put in commission, a large mill has been erected and under Mr. Dent's skill superintendence the work is being energetically prosecuted. Messrs. Watt & Co. have entered on a program of saw building at the camp. They are bringing down their lumber to Athabasca in scows with the aid of a tug-line boat, and using their own lumber as they do for row building purposes, they are able to supply a double bottomed scow of a type superior to anything ever formerly known in the locality at a much lower price than Athabasca has hitherto been accustomed to. They are able to turn out at the camp 12 scows per week, and they have now 12 scows at Athabasca, a large stock of scows so that freights and others proceeding down the river may be supplied with high grade boats at a moment's notice.

Owing to the Hudson Bay Co. having varied their transportation premises between the depot and the river, Messrs. Watt & Co. have been fortunate in securing a lease of the most eligible site on the river bank for the prosecution of their business in Athabasca, and for the transportation by the C.N.R. of the lumber to all parts of Alberta. The assistance of a spur track abutting on the large old Hudson Bay warehouse now occupied by Watt & Co., greatly facilitates the work of handling lumber.

In order to meet the requirements of prospective customers Messrs. Watt & Co. have acquired the machinery lately belonging to Mr. Groves, and are about to fit it up in their warehouse adjoining the depot. They will then be able to meet the requirements of the public in every branch of the lumber trade and may be entrusted to do planning of all kinds.

Mr. W. J. Dent is in charge of the practical work at the camp, and Mr. J. Stewart Watt, of Watt & Watt, Wetaskiwin, with whom the firm of Watt & Co., is associated, will for some time be resident in Athabasca to take charge of the commercial and financial end of the business. We understand that during his residence at Athabasca he is also open to undertake the charge of legal business.

We are informed that it is the intention of Messrs. Watt & Co. to enter upon logging next winter on a very much larger scale, and to progressively develop the big lumber limits they have acquired and which are situated on both sides of the river below Tomato Creek.—Northern News.

The annual Tennis Tournament for the Championship of Alberta will be held on the Edmonton Tennis Club grounds during the week commencing Monday, August 16, 1915.

Some of the merchants have requested us to draw the attention of the farmers wrapping in butter that their wrappings should be printed Dairy Butter. There are numbers who are not complying with the law and are leaving not only themselves but the storekeeper also liable for prosecution.

R. B. Chadwick, until recently superintendent of the department of neglected children, and one of the best-known public officials in the province, died very suddenly at his residence in Edmonton Friday night. It is stated that his death was due to over-exertion when he had not yet fully recovered from the effects of an operation for appendicitis that he recently underwent.
